18 U.S.C. § 924(d)(1)

JARED JOHN FIEGE,

18 U.S.C. § 1028A(a)(1)

18 U.S.C. § 1341

Defendant.

18 U.S.C. § 1343

18 U.S.C. § 1344

28 U.S.C. § 2461(c)

THE UNITED STATES GRAND JURY CHARGES:

General Allegations

At times relevant to this Indictment:

The Defendant

1. Defendant JARED JOHN FIEGE was a resident of Duluth, in the State and District of Minnesota.

The U.S. Small Business Administration

2. The United States Small Business Administration ("SBA") was an executive-branch agency of the United States government that provided support to entrepreneurs and small businesses. The mission of the SBA was to maintain and strengthen the nation's economy by enabling the establishment and viability of small businesses and by assisting in the economic recovery of communities after disasters.

3. As part of this effort, the SBA enabled and provided for loans through banks, credit unions, and other lenders. These loans have government-backed guarantees.

CARES Act and the Economic Injury Disaster Relief Program

4. The Economic Injury Disaster Loan ("EIDL") Program was an SBA program that provided low-interest financing to small businesses, renters, and homeowners in regions affected by declared disasters.

5. The Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security ("CARES") Act was a federal law enacted in March 2020 and designed to provide emergency financial assistance to the millions of Americans who are suffering the economic effects caused by the COVID-19 pandemic.

6. One source of relief provided by the CARES Act was the authorization for the SBA to provide EIDLs to eligible small businesses experiencing substantial financial disruption due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

7. In addition, the CARES Act authorized the SBA to issue advances of up to $10,000 to small businesses within three days of applying for an EIDL. If awarded, EIDL advances did not have to be repaid.

8. In order to obtain an EIDL and an EIDL advance, a qualifying business was required to submit an application to the SBA and provide information about its operations. The applicant was required to certify that all information in the application was true and correct to the best of the applicant's knowledge.

9. EIDL applications were submitted directly to the SBA and processed by the agency with support from a government contractor, Rapid Finance. Any funds issued under an EIDL or advance were issued directly by the SBA into bank accounts designated by the applicant.

Unemployment Insurance

10. Whereas the EIDL program was designed to assist businesses, Unemployment Insurance ("UI") was a cash benefits program designed to assist individuals. UI was a joint state-federal program pursuant to which eligible individuals who have lost employment earnings could apply for cash benefits. The Department of Employment and Economic Development ("DEED") administered UI benefits in Minnesota.

Relevant Financial Institutions

11. Bank 1 was a financial institution based in the State of Minnesota holding deposits insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

12. Bank 2 was a financial institution based in the State of Virginia holding deposits insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

13. Bank 3 was a financial institution based in the State of South Dakota holding deposits insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

The Defendant's Scheme to Defraud

14. From at least in or about April 2020 and continuing through August 2020, in the State and District of Minnesota and elsewhere, FIEGE knowingly and intentionally devised and executed a scheme and artifice to defraud individuals, financial institutions, and state and federal government programs, all by means of materially false and fraudulent pretenses, representations, promises and omissions.

15. The manner in which FIEGE enacted his scheme to defraud was through identity theft of at least twenty-five real individuals, including but not limited to T.L., R.L., E.S., and C.J.

16. For example, FIEGE submitted applications for UI benefits using the names, birth dates, and social security numbers belonging to real persons without their knowledge or consent. In order to apply for EIDL assistance and advances, FIEGE also invented fictional business entities, which he linked to the identities of real persons without their knowledge or consent.

17. FIEGE established bank accounts with Bank 1 and requested bank cards be issued by mail to allow him to withdraw significant amounts of cash from those accounts.

18. In some instances, FIEGE submitted the fraudulent UI and EIDL applications with phone numbers and email addresses he had access and control over, which he would then use to impersonate the people whose identities he had used. FIEGE possessed numerous cell phones and registered numerous email addresses which he used in order to impersonate others. FIEGE also possessed and used fraudulent passports to impersonate certain victims, providing them as means of identity verification.

19. In other instances, FIEGE submitted fraudulent UI and EIDL applications with mailing addresses which did not belong to the persons whose identities he used, so that he could physically steal mail from the mailboxes at those addresses to receive bank cards or other account information.
