

As an intellectual property and commercial litigation attorney, Kyra represents individuals and companies of all sizes in disputes relating to trade secrets, trademarks, copyrights, patents, unfair competition, noncompetition agreements, antitrust claims, alter ego and successor liability claims, and other contract and business disputes. She also has experience representing clients in government investigations, including those involving the Federal Trade Commission, the U.S. Department of Justice, and the Office of the New York State Attorney General. In addition, Kyra provides litigation risk counseling and advice relating to legal ethics and professional responsibility. Kyra leverages her passion for research, writing, and learning the details of each client's business into development of creative, cost-effective litigation strategies and winning arguments.

Kyra's practice brings her into courts around the country. At the trial court level, Kyra has successfully litigated cases in state and federal courts, including courts in New York, Florida, Minnesota, and Texas. She has also advocated for clients before various governmental agencies, including the Federal Trade Commission, the U.S. Department of Justice, and the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.

Before joining Harter Secrest & Emery LLP, Kyra worked at Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP in New York City.
